

MONTHLY BULLETIN OF EMPLOYMENT STATISTICS.
(Wage and Salary Earners in Civil Employment)

APRIL, 1944.

PART I.
TOTAL PERSONS EMPLOYED IN ALL INDUSTRIES.

Estimates of total wage and salary earners working in all industries (including rural and private domestic employment) are shown at intervals in the table below. As there are no currently available data as to monthly employment in rural industry and private domestic service, Part II of the Bulletin, showing monthly variations in civil employment, covers employment exclusive of rural and private domestic. The figures in all cases relate to wage and salary earners in civil employment only and exclude persons engaged full time in the Army, Navy and Air Force (including Permanent Forces).

Between July 1941 and March 1943 the net enlistments of women in the defence forces were approximately 49,000.

A. EMPLOYEES IN INDUSTRIES OTHER THAN RURAL AND PRIVATE DOMESTIC

Monthly estimates of the number of wage and salary earners in civil employment (excluding rural workers and female domestics in private homes) are made through the use of Pay-Roll Tax Statistics and direct returns of Commonwealth Government employment.

The trend of employment since the outbreak of war is shown in the table below:-

(a) Revised since last issue.

Total Employment in July, 1939 was 1,730,200 (excluding rural and household domestic). In November, 1941 a peak of 1,952,300 was reached representing an increase of 222,100 (males 88,200 and females 133,900). After November, 1941 male employment (excluding rural) declined heavily until the middle of 1943, since when it has remained fairly steady. In April, 1944 it was 111,100 less than in November, 1941 and 22,900 less than in July, 1939.

Females in employment (excluding rural and private domestic) increased 65,600 between November, 1941 and April, 1944 making a total increase since July, 1939 of 199,500.

During April, 1944 estimated total employment (excluding rural and private domestic) decreased by 9,100 (males 4,700 and females 4,400). The largest decreases were shown in building (2,800), munitions etc., (2,600) and other factories (2,600). The movement in other factories was due primarily to seasonal causes.

B. INDUSTRIAL GROUPS.

Total employment in April, 1944 was 2.3 per cent less than in November, 1941. Amongst the industrial groups, however, Munitions, Aircraft and Shipbuilding were 50.7 per cent above the November, 1941 level - the increase in numbers of employees being 35,900 since November, 1941. Rail and Air transport in April 1944 had 10,900 more employees than in November, 1941 and in Governmental n.e.i., there were employed 52,200 more than in November, 1941. All other industrial groups except Shipping and Stevedoring and Other Transport and Communication employed fewer workers in April, 1944 than in November, 1941.

The following statement shows the estimated numbers in employment in the main industrial groups:-

C. STATES : TOTAL EMPLOYMENT.

The table below gives a comparison of estimated civil employment by States:-

In most States total employment (excluding rural and private domestic) reached a peak in December quarter 1941. In South Australia the peak was not reached until April 1942. In Queensland and Tasmania, civil employment reached a temporary peak at about the same time as the other States. After declining, civil employment in these States increased so that in April 1944 estimated civil employment in Queensland was 13,700 above the November 1941 level and in Tasmania the corresponding change was 1,900.

D. STATES : INDUSTRIAL GROUPS

During April 1944, male non-rural employment decreased in all States except Western Australia and Tasmania. Male employment in Rail and Air Transport expanded in New South Wales but decreased in Victoria. In Shipping and Stevedoring there was an increase in Western Australia and decreases in New South Wales, Victoria and South Australia. Other Transport and Communication increased primarily in Queensland. Male employment declined in Other Factories and Workshops primarily in New South Wales; in Governmental n.e.i. in Queensland; in munitions, etc. in Victoria and New South Wales, and in building and construction primarily in Queensland and New South Wales. There was little change in other industries.

During April 1944, female employment (excluding rural and household domestic) decreased in New South Wales and Victoria and also slightly in Queensland. There was no change in Western Australia and Tasmania. Female employment in retail trade increased in Victoria. Munitions employment decreased in New South Wales, Victoria and South Australia. Governmental n.e.i. decreased in Victoria and Queensland, and Other Industries declined in all States except South Australia. Other Factories and Workshops showed a decrease in Victoria and New South Wales.

The decline in Other Factories etc. which occurred in New South Wales and Victoria and affected both males and females, was due primarily to seasonal movement in food processing factories.

In the following table, estimated employment in each industrial group in each State is shown for the month of April 1944:-

The above statistics relating to total employment are based on data from various sources including Pay-Roll Tax Returns, and returns of Commonwealth Government employment.

PART III
PAY-ROLL TAX

The collected figures for Pay-Roll returns for Australia are given without any adjustment in the next table. The returns do not cover employees of the Commonwealth Government; employers who pay not more than £20 per week in wages do not make returns and religious and public benevolent institutions and hospitals are also exempt. The proportion of all employees who are included varies from State to State, but in general, the proportion of employees (other than those of the Commonwealth, those engaged in rural industries, and female domestics in private households) in the Pay-Roll Tax returns is about 90 per cent. of the estimated total of males in employment, and about 80 per cent. of the females.

Employers were classified for "industry" according to the industry in which they were predominantly engaged. The following table may be taken as indicating trends from month to month, but not as a guide to the absolute numbers employed in the respective industries.
